

Daily Appeal.

BY MCCLANAHAN & DILL.

GRENADA, MISS.

THURSDAY EVENING, JULY 24, 1862.

CONSPIRACY TO ORDERED INTO CAMP.

We are informed, says the Mississippi of yesterday, that the Secretary of War has ordered Messrs. M. R. Clark and M. F. Barry, to establish camps of instruction for conscripts in this State, and that these gentlemen have entered upon their duties, and will in the course of ten days have completed arrangements to render efficient this powerful arm of the service.

The necessary instructions and orders will be published in a few days.

EXCHANGE OF PRISONERS.

The different reports of the negotiations now pending between the two governments, for the exchange of prisoners, inform us that the cartel of 1852 has been adopted. This was a cartel, or agreement, for an exchange of prisoners, between the United States and Great Britain, during the late war, by which all prisoners, taken by either belligerent, were to be paroled, and returned to their respective countries, whenever the number was equal, or when the exchange was made. The cartel was paid for the time being by the consuls of their respective countries, and receipts and vouchers as to rank being given and received in all such shipments. Whenever the numbers thus captured and paroled were equal on both sides, they were exchanged, rank for rank. Under such an arrangement neither government could hold any large amount of prisoners for a great length of time, and consequently they expect to see returned to our army, or to their homes, thousands of brave Southerners, now languishing in Northern prisons.

SINKING NEGROES.

The slaves authorities have suggested largely in this business recently at Memphis. We learn that on several occasions boats loaded with contrabands, men, women and children, have been dispatched up the river to Cairo, and that the work is still going on. Our informant witnessed the departure of a portion of this new commercial commodity, and assures us that the fact can be attested by hundreds of witnesses.

The negroes were gathered from the plantations in the vicinity of the river at Memphis and on the river—principally the latter. Not some of the landings north of the plantations have been entirely stripped of servants. The robbery has been a wholesale one, so far as they could easily accomplish it. A few negroes were sent away by the promises of the thieves, but most of them were carried off forcibly, against their own will as well as the remonstrances of their masters. For what purpose they are to be used at the North is not stated, but some of the negroes of the Federal soldiers informed that they were to be sent among the famishing community of Southern Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

The American Tract Society have undertaken a new branch of publishing. The managers have caused crackers to be baked, on each of which is stamped a text of scripture.

A Northern dispatch from Memphis says: "The guerrillas are becoming more and more numerous, and are now attacking the city and attacking the city."

The Davenport (Iowa) Democrat says it is estimated that Gov. Kirkwood has gone to Washington for the purpose of advising as to the propriety of commencing drafting in this State.

The Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce, in order to establish the loyalty of its members to the Lincoln government, has passed a resolution that they all take the oath of allegiance.

The Northern papers state that a party of Morgan's men captured the private mail of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, and carried off the mail.

The Federal organ at Nashville says it is understood as to the private Federal soldiers being paroled at Murfreesboro. Only the sick and wounded were so discharged. The others were carried to McMinnville.

The Chicago Times says: The Vicksburg canal has proved a failure, at least for the present, the water entering it to the depth of two or three inches only. It will be to be deepened three feet, which it is hoped, will render it effective, though the river is now falling.

A surgeon writing from McClellan's army, speaking of operations upon the field at the time of the battle of Fair Oaks, says he removed limbs and cut out bullets without using chloroform, the patients being so excited by the noise of artillery and musketry as not to mind the pain.

Cynthiana, Ky., recently captured by Col. Morgan, is the capital of Harrison county, and is situated on the east side of the South Fork of Licking river, thirty-nine miles east-northeast of Franklin, and sixteen miles north of Cincinnati. It is on the line of the Kentucky Central railroad.

Dispatch dated Kankakee, July 14th, says: "The Union army has been victorious in the battle of Fair Oaks, and the Confederates have been driven back to their camp."

The cost of raising soldiers under different State authorities varies very much. In Michigan 1,000 men cost $21,000; in Iowa, 1,000 men cost $22,500; in New York, 1,000 men cost $23,500; in Illinois, 1,000 men cost $24,000; in Wisconsin, 1,000 men cost $24,000. There must have been a "heap of plunder" in the latter State.

POSTAGE STAMPS.—The Richmond Enquirer of the 16th says: "A large supply of Confederate postage stamps reached the city on yesterday, and will be dispensed from the stamp delivery of the post office at day. They arrived in the Confederate States, as letters are announced in the Enquirer, by a steamer from England a few days ago."

At eight hundred wounded prisoners stationed Richmond, in the 16th, from Savage's Station, on the York River railroad. They included some fifty field and company officers. Many of them were very severely wounded, but having with them their own physicians, who were well supplied with all the requisite medical and surgical appliances, they have little cause to complain.

The Mississippi of yesterday says that on Tuesday, two of the enemy's ranks, from the upper left, having passed our batteries, attacked the Arkansas, which was lying at or near the city landing. They shot a shot into one of her port holes, and killed five and wounded three.

The Arkansas opened fire upon them, and killed two large boats through one of them, and a Boxer, when they hastily took a retreat. It was with difficulty that the Boxer could hold up.

THE OFFENSIVE DEFENSIVE.

Whether or not the time has yet come, or whether it is the true policy of the South to invade Northern territory with her armies, we think there can be no two opinions, at least upon the point that the time has come when the Federal soldier should be driven beyond the Southern limit, and that the South should at least assume the offensive defensive. Necessarily, if not policy, is rapidly forcing us to this point, as the Federal forces are becoming more and more tyrannical in their conduct, more unscrupulous in their robberies and more fiendish in their persecutions. It is a standing reproach to the South and to her armies, that these hell hounds are permitted to roam over, pillage and devastate the country.

Now have we yet felt or witnessed the worst of evils resulting from the presence and depredations of hostile armies. The orders of Gen. Porter, which we published yesterday, indicate, rather than command, the adoption of a still more stringent policy to be pursued in future. The Federal armies are ordered to submit upon the country through which they march, and the people living within five miles of any rail or other road, or telegraph line, are held responsible.

The purpose of the enemy is evidently to impoverish and devastate the country as they progress, and this being their object, it is not only important, but absolutely necessary as a matter of self-protection, that the enemy be driven from our borders. If the war be not carried into Africa, let it at least be carried to the boundary line, and the money held within the borders of its own territory, in order that our homes and property may be protected, and peace of society secured.

The country calls aloud for the adoption of this policy, and the sooner it is put in practice the better it will be for the welfare of our people. It is natural that under long suffering, provoked by the presence and devastating effects of large armies, our people should begin after a while, to grow weary of the war and long for the restoration of peace. To prevent this, let them be relieved of the further presence of the Federal armies. We shall not with rejecting the day when our army shall take up the line of march to the Ohio river, to which the heroic Morgan has already plumed the way.

THE FINANCIAL ALARM AT THE NORTH.

The chief excitement in Northern commercial circles, is, of course, the advancing premium on gold and sterling exchange. It is not only a matter of speculation, but a matter of fact, that the cotton supply is being cut off by the Federal army. The supply has evidently decreased, while the demand is as active as ever. We doubt if history can furnish an instance where paper money has depreciated so rapidly as in the North, where, but a short time since treasury notes were at par for gold, or at least gold commanded but a nominal premium for notes. Today they are selling at a discount of 10 to 15 per cent. The Federal soldiers informed that they were to be sent among the famishing community of Southern Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

The same journal, in its financial article, expresses the opinion that "the extraordinary high rate which gold now commands is directly attributable to the large amount of paper money in circulation."

It is extremely difficult to form any conjecture as to when active operations will commence between the Federal and Confederate armies. The movements of the Federal army are proverbially slow, and it now appears that nothing will be done here until sufficient force has been raised. The Confederate army, on the other hand, is more active, and it is now reported that they are moving toward the Gulf.

Our people have been advancing for a few days, until now they are within five hundred yards of the rebel batteries below the town of Vicksburg. The advance has not been without opposition as yet. They are gradually encroaching upon the forbidden ground, and it will not surprise us at any time to hear of their repulse.

Col. Morgan's Appeal to Kentuckians.

The following "eloquent" appeal was made to the people of his native State, by Col. Morgan, upon the occasion of his late appearance among them:

PROCLAMATION.

GLASGOW, July 10, 1862.—Kentuckians, I am once more among you. Confiding in your patriotism and strong attachment to our Southern cause, I have at the moment of my gallant return, come to you, my fellow Kentuckians, to ask of you a great favor. I have been driven from the North by the Federal tyrants, but I have not yet despaired. Let every true patriot rise up and support me. Let every true patriot rise up and support me. Let every true patriot rise up and support me.

CONSCRIPT AND MILITIA LAW.—We take the following extract from the decision of General Turner, in regard to the conscript and militia law. It will no doubt settle the question with all.
